

SC Announces Start Of Council Elections

• PETITIONING FOR STUDENT Council offices opens today and will extend through Friday, April 17, according to Council advocate Tim Mead.

Petitions are available in the Student Activities office, and must be filled out and returned to that office by 5 p.m. April 17.

The campaigning period for Council elections will last from April 20 through April 28. The annual election forum will be held on Monday, April 27 in Lisner auditorium, at which time all candidates will have the opportunity of expressing their platforms.

Elections

The election this year will be held on April 29 and 30. Rules for the election and campaigning period will appear in next week's HATCHET. Requirements for the various Council offices are now available in the Student Activities office in the Student Union annex.

Council offices open to petitioners are: president, vice-president, advocate, comptroller secretary, publicity director, freshman director, activities director, program director, member-at-large, chairman of the Student Union board, representatives from the schools of engineering, government, education, Columbian college and Junior college.

Also open are petitions for the representatives of the Law, Pharmacy and Medical schools who are elected by the governing bodies in these respective schools.

Hillel Presents Plans For Annual Ball O'Fire

• HILLEL FOUNDATION'S ANNUAL "Ball O'Fire" will be held Saturday from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in the Terrace Room of the Washington National Airport.

The highlight of the dance will be the selection of "Mr. Apollo" the University's "manliest man." Candidates for this title have been nominated by various sororities and fraternities.

Judges for the contest will be Becky Hanzl, 1958 Homecoming Queen, Professor Richard V. Stephens of the sociology department and a special guest to be announced at the dance.

Music for the 12th annual Ball O' Fire will be provided by Larry Laine, a 1950 graduate of the University. His music theme for the evening will be "Playing music

'Student Life' Upholds Vote

• STUDENT LIFE COMMITTEE, last Friday, voted to uphold a ruling by Student Council President Ed Rutsch disallowing three Council members to vote on Handbook chairmen when the members arrived at a council meeting after the petitioners had spoken.

The Student Life Committee ruling came as a result of a dispute evolving from Mr. Rutsch's decision. At the Council meeting three weeks ago, Mr. Crump, one of the members disenfranchised by the ruling, appealed the decision of the chair. When the Council defeated his appeal, he announced that the matter would be taken before Student Life.

Council Incorrect

Mr. Crump, in a statement to the HATCHET, said, "Quite frankly, I still believe that the chair's ruling, regarding a Student Council member's right to vote on an issue before the Council, was incorrect. The Student Life Committee has, however, he said, "made their decision and so as far as I am concerned, the issue is dead."

Students To Hear 'Colonials' Organize; Second Party Born

• THE NINTH ANNUAL Career Conference will be held Tuesday, April 14. In order to facilitate student participation, this will be a "closed night" and those professors who wish may dismiss their classes.

Activities will commence at 7:00 p.m. in Lisner auditorium with the U. S. Army Band conducted by Major Hugh Curry. At 7:30, President Colclough will give a welcoming talk and introduce Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, the keynote speaker.

Dr. Flemming, who received his Doctor of Laws degree at G. W. U. in 1933, is the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Following his address, the assembly will separate and attend forums which will feature speakers representing a number of occupations. These forums will be held in Stockton, Thompson and Corcoran Halls.

Cameron Pippitt, facilities chairman for the Conference, stated that the purpose of these forums is "to acquaint students with the opportunities offered in several fields and to give them occasion to meet outstanding members of the various professions."

The formal adjournment of the Conference will take place at 10 p.m., however, the Student Union will remain open until 11:00 in order that students and guests can get coffee and carry on informal discussions.

The organizations at G. W. U. participating include Alpha Kappa Psi, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Civil Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Art Club, Geology Department and Institute of Radio Engineers.

Also the International Relations Club, Language Clubs, Physical Educational Department, Phi Gamma Mu, Pi Delta Epsilon, Psi Chi, Religious Council, Secretarial Studies Department, Sigma

• UNDERGRADUATE women students who wish to make application for residence in Strong or Madison Hall for the 1959 fall semester may do so in the Office of Women's Activities after April 7. Madison Hall will be open for the Summer Session. Applications for Summer Sessions may be turned in on May 1, 1959.

Pi Sigma, School of Medicine, Society for the Advancement of Management, Sociology Department, Statistics Department and Student Bar Association will participate in the program.

Co-chairmen for the Conference are Bill Belford and Alex Heslin. Other chairmen are Ronnie Miller, Advertising; Terry Bishop, Program; and Gail Evertson, Invitations.

Sub-chairmen are Hal Bergem, Social Sciences; Jim Lear, Engineering; Bob Higdon, Sciences; Bill Watson, Professions; Jo Toland, Humanities; and Bob Lipman, Business.

Forums meeting in Stockton Hall will be Political Science, room 21; Psychology, B-3; Sociology and Economics, 22; Foreign Affairs, 20; and Law, 30. Also, Physical Education, 32; Art, 31; Languages, B-4; Accounting and Business Administration, 200; and Journalism and Public Relations, B-2.

Those in Thompsons Hall will be Civil Engineering, 205; Electrical and Mechanical Engineering, 200; Geology, 306; Statistics, 201; Religion, 303; and Secretarial Studies, 300.

In Corcoran Hall will be Physics, 314; Medicine, 319; and Education, 315.

• THE COLONIAL CAMPUS political party adopted a platform consisting of six major planks at its meeting last Friday.

The platform was presented to the group for discussion by platform committee chairman Tom Huestis. The new platform received a unanimous vote of approval after a lengthy discussion period.

The six planks call for responsible student government, improved University-wide activities, better student information services, a check cashing service, formation of G. W. chapters of the Young Republicans and Young Democrats and responsible progress. Copies of the platform in its entirety may be procured in the Student Union.

Preliminary nominations for Student Council positions were also held at the Friday afternoon session. Further preliminary nominating and balloting for final nominations will take place at the next scheduled meeting of the organization, 1:00 p.m. Friday in Gov. 101.

Nominees

People receiving preliminary party nominations at the meeting were Tim Mead and Dick Wills for president; Dave Aaronson and Stan Heckman for advocate; Hal Bergem for Columbian college representative; Allan May and Penny Kramer for Junior college representative; Steve Dietz for School of Engineering representative; Lou Van Blois for publicity director; Pat Mechem for program director; Bill Stuart for member-at-large and Jack Linn for student union chairman.

There were no nominations Friday for the offices of vice-president, secretary, comptroller, activities director, freshman director, School of Education representative and School of Government representative.

Party president, Stan Heckman, announced that anyone interested in receiving a party nomination for a student council post should state his intentions to a party member, who will, in turn, place his name in the party's nomination contest at the next meeting of the party.

Heckman added that all candidates running on the party's ticket will be required to be supporters of the party platform.

• THE BIRTH OF a second campus political party, the Inde-ans, may be in the making tomorrow.

This move resulted from the announcement, last Friday, of the platform of the Colonial Campus Political Party which at present is the sole political organization on campus.

According to group spokesman, Dave Fentress, the Inde-ans fear that the Colonial Campus Political Party will amount to nothing more than a "league of women voters, favoring responsible government, God, mother and country."

"Now that the C. C.'s have expressed themselves and came out for certain definite policies," he said, "it is up to the student body to consider their platform, join and support them, or form an opposition."

"If the student body fails to concern itself and allows a group of less than 100 to control the activities of thousands of students," he continued, "Democratic government on campus will die and students will have only themselves to blame."

The group will hold an organization meeting tomorrow at 12 p.m. in Woodhul C. The purpose of the meeting, according to Mr. Fentress, will be feeling out Student political attitudes and interests and to consider the formation of the new party.

Tentative plans call for a platform and slate of candidates for the upcoming Council elections. The platform, Mr. Fentress said would be shorter and contain more definite plans than the one presented by the Colonial Campus Party.

Stan Heckman, Chairman of the Colonial Campus Political Party, said upon hearing of the possible formation of the new party, "We welcome the formation of a second party. Upon their organization, we will have accomplished one of our prime objectives. One party," he said, "isn't enough to express the opinions of the entire student body."

Prospective candidates are to come to the next meeting in person if possible. Each candidate for a nomination will be allowed to have two people speak in his behalf. The total time allotted to the speakers for any one candidate will be ten minutes.

Program, Theme For May Day Announced

• THE ANNUAL MAY Day program will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday, May 1, in Lisner Auditorium.

The theme for the affair will be the "Old South." In tune with this motif, the program will begin with the arrival of a show boat. The Glee Club and Dance Productions group will perform. Dick Wills and his Dixie Land band will also entertain. The May Queen will be presented early in the evening, and the entire program will center around her.

The May Queen is selected from girls in Who's Who by vote of the women students. Preliminary voting will be on Friday, April 24. The final voting will be on Friday, May 1.

Individual awards will be presented and tapping will take place for Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa and the Order of the Scarlet. The new I.F.C. officers will be announced as well as the results of the Student Council elections.

New Plans

There are tentative plans for a new addition to the May Day program this year. The Student Council has extended closed night until 11:30 a.m. After the program a short dance and a band concert are planned on Lisner Terrace. Dick Wills' band will again be featured.

The program is being planned by Sally Ludlow and sub-chairmen: Mary Foster, Queen's Chairman; Steve Kemp, Voting; Gail Evertson, Publicity; Sue Wakefield and Pat Gussin, Program; Caroline Tucker and Mackin Smith, Invitations.

Art Winners

• TWO UNIVERSITY WINNERS have received awards in the Eleventh Annual Art Show of the University Art club. Winners and their entries are: Lyn McClure, "Configuration," Honorable mention, oils; Marguerite Fowle, "Autumn Sunrise," First award, sculpture.

The art show is held annually in the University Library. It is open to students of the University and the Corcoran School of Art, associated with the University. Entries were screened by Donald C. Kline and Lawrence P. Leite of the University's Art Department.

Judges were Helen Costello and Samuel Bookatz for oil painting, water color and graphics; and Alexander Giamfietro for sculpture. The exhibition of fifty-seven works will be on display in the library, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday, April 5 through April 19, 1959.

you like to hear and dance to." His orchestra is the one he organized as an undergraduate at the University.

Apollo Candidates

Candidates for the "Mr. Apollo" crown include Bart Cravella, nominee of Alpha Delta Pi sorority; Lou Van Blois, Chi Omega sorority; Bob Lipman, Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity; Ed Rutsch, Delta Zeta sorority; Gus Muir, Pi Beta Phi sorority; H. Busky, Sigma Chi fraternity; Ronnie Reeves, Zeta Tau Alpha sorority; Mike Bellet, Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity; John Zier, Phi Sigma Sigma sorority; Joel Bieser, Phi Alpha fraternity; Burt Kaplan, Alpha Epsilon Pi sorority; Don McLaughlin, Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity; Ben Finkle, Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity; Bob Price, Delta Gamma sorority; Al Johnson, Sigma Nu fraternity; Bill Symthe, Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and John Calarco, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Co-Chairmen

Nancy Ackerman and Martin Bertman, social co-chairman, fully intend this year's affair to be "the greatest dance Hillel has ever had."

Drinks may be brought to the dance and set-ups will be available. Tickets for the dance may be purchased for $2.75 per couple from either Miss Ackerman or Mr. Bertman or in the Student Union lobby every day this week. Tickets will also be available at the door Saturday night.

Med School Initiates New Program

• A STUDENT-SPONSORED Program has just been initiated at the School of Medicine, it was announced last week. In this program each student has been assigned a faculty sponsor who will counsel and guide him throughout his medical course.

Each member of the faculty will act as a sponsor, counselor, and friend to four students, one from each class.

Realizing the necessity for such an advisory program, the Executive Faculty of the School of Medicine and the Student Advisory Committee to the Dean have formulated this program with hopes of bringing the faculty and students ever closer together.

Having taken effect as of April 1, the program has been enthusiastically received at its start by both students and faculty members.

Prather Wins Fellowship

• DR. JOHN L. PRATHER, Assistant Professor of Physics has received a Fellowship for study at the Faculty Summer School in Theology to be held from July 26 to August 30, 1959, at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific at Berkeley, California.

The Summer Schools in Theology and Religion for college and university teachers and administrators are to be held in the summer of 1959.

Their purpose is to provide Episcopal teachers and administrators with an opportunity to enhance their knowledge and understanding of the Christian faith through lectures, seminars, and group discussions. Also, there is the opportunity to engage in individual study of some phase of Christian theology or of the relations between theology and their scholarly or administrative work. Another purpose is to enjoy an experience of Christian community through worship and study in the company of colleagues from various institutions and regions; so that they may better fulfill their responsibilities as lay ministers witnessing to the intellectual dimensions of the Christian faith within colleges and universities.

Principal emphasis will be on individual study and work, with less emphasis devoted to lectures and formal discussion.

IFC Forums Discuss Greek Week Function

• THE PRESIDENTS' AND vice presidents' Greek week forums held in March resulted in a proposal to abandon the IFC Greek Week activities.

The fraternity presidents and vice presidents met at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. In discussing suspension, several delegates felt that with the present situation, Greek Week is not properly fulfilling its function of drawing the fraternities closer together. Further, they said Greek Week open houses stand as an unbearable temptation for "freeloaders."

To remedy this it was proposed that Greek Week be spread over a longer time period consisting of group fraternity-sorority exchanges thereby giving the fraternities more time for well-planned interfraternity functions. An interfraternity party after formal rush was suggested as a means of getting closer relations at the start of the school year.

Aim of Forums

According to Dan Kosek, IFC president, the aim of the forums is to give the fraternities an opportunity to present problems common to all of them and also to offer new ideas for solutions to these problems. This discussion benefits everyone and also serves to better the relationship between the groups, he said.

Activities, such as Greek Week offers, serves to channel rivalry into constructive fields, according to Mr. Kosek.

For these reasons, Mr. Kosek believes that Greek Week should not only be continued, but should be supported fully by the fraternities. He states that the recent Greek Weeks have been very successful and he looks for more of the same kind in the future.

Fraternity members thus have the opportunity to associate with one another and to greet interested independents.

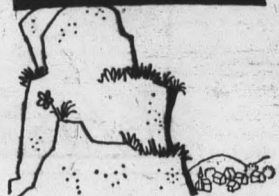

The open houses, however, represent only a fragment of the Greek Week program. The IFC Banquet is held for the fraternity presidents, vice presidents, and IFC delegates, the fraternity officers and chairmen hold their forums at various fraternity houses at which the abandonment idea was brought up this year.

Second Party

• TOMORROW MAY SEE the birth of a second political party on our campus. It is about time. We wonder why this move did not result before the announcement of the platform of the Colonial Campus political party last Friday.

It seems to be rather a late date to begin the formation of a new political party. Before the campaigning for election begins in three weeks, they will have to have an organizational meeting, elect officers, draw up a constitution, receive recognition from the Student Life Committee and draw up a platform.

But even at this late date, if the proposed party is able to get into operation effectively, it should add some spice to the elections.

We feel that a new party will provide something which has long been needed on this campus—competition. In the past, the contenders for Council positions merely stood on G street passing out fliers which said in effect, "I'm the best one up for this job, vote for me." They could, if they wished, also present their platform before the student body in Lisner auditorium. But only a very limited number of students turned up to listen.

Now, under the system set up by the Student Council, each candidate will be required to present a platform and the party will present each platform to the students. The student body will no longer have an excuse for not knowing the platform of the individual candidates. Competition will also be heightened, the candidates will no longer be able to sit back while their backers pass out "Vote for me" fliers.

We hope that the new party will be able to get into operation quickly enough to take part in the forthcoming Council elections.

Sound Familiar?

Twenty-two years ago the HATCHET printed this editorial concerning an issue that affected the G. W. campus. • TWO WEEKS AGO a young man stood before our Student Council and asked its verbal support of the American Youth Act. Although a tabling of the motion resulted, due to the unknown powers of the Council, only one member of the Council came out against the question at hand. Sentiment decidedly leaned toward the approval of the plan whereby youth might be aided through a permanent program which would help keep them in school so that their "judgments may mature" and "their decisions as citizens may be based upon knowledge."

Tonight the Council meets again, the motion will undoubtedly be untabled, and the question will again be: "What are the powers of the Student Council?"

We are unable to understand those who feel that in expressing opinion of a student body which they have been elected to represent in matters of student concern, the Student Council would be advancing beyond its jurisdiction.

Active participation with an outside movement on the part of the Council might easily be interpreted in such a manner. Once affiliated with a large group, the smaller unit may find itself participating in actions which it would never sponsor independently. Even as Mr. Simon and Mr. Hinckley, who sat down to wait for the arrival of the end of their parade found themselves being arrested for leading a sit-down strike. But active participation in a mass movement and the expression of independent thoughts are entirely different things.

The Student Council in giving a vote of approbation to the American Youth Act would be expressing the opinion of a definite unit, the student body of the George Washington University, which elected the members of the Council to represent them in matters of student concern.

The Council's vote of approbation would have the value of more pressure toward the passing of the American Youth Act, which concerns itself with making permanent and broadening the scope of a program which now affects over 500 of George Washington's students.

Surely the mere expression of opinion concerning a measure which is sponsored by no particular action save that of youth, which is of immediate concern to a good-sized bloc of our own student body, cannot exceed the power given those elected to the Student Council to handle matters of student concern.

Buchanan, Barton, Amini Shine In Otherwise Slow Anastasia

by Betsy Evans

• WHEN Anastasia OPENED on Broadway in December, 1954, the real star of the play emerged as Eugenie Leontovich, in the rôle of Maria Feodorovna, Dowager Empress of Russia. The University Players presented Anastasia March 13 and 25 in Lisner auditorium.

That the play got off to a slow start was more the authors' fault than the actors. The story is complicated, and much of the first act is devoted to necessary historical background, a problem Marcelle Maurette and Guy Bolton didn't quite conquer in the script.

It is based on the rumor that Anastasia, youngest daughter of Czar Nicholas II and heiress to the Romanov millions, escaped the Bolshevik slaughter of the royal family in the Revolution of 1917.

Iradj Amini, appearing as the scoundrel Prince Bounine, held up that first act, and much of the second and third, single-handed, by the sheer charm and magnetism of his own personality, despite bumbling, boyish portrayals of his cohorts by Joe Spitzer and Joe Don Baker.

Hope Barton presented a fresh, lovely characterization of Anna, the frightened and destitute amnesiac molded—perhaps restored—to the image of the Romanov princess.

But they received little support, and the play was slow to take hold.

Then, in the middle of the second act, Kay Buchanan entered in the rôle of Maria Feodorovna, Dowager Empress of Russia.

It was as if a powerful shock had passed through both actors and audience, charging them all with the superb drama of the moment.

Miss Buchanan was magnificent. The final scene in the second act, a moving interplay of emotion between the empress and the princess—or the pretender—was a work of genuine artistry.

The play might well have ended there.

The tantalizing conclusion, the girl's disappearance, her true identity still a mystery, was anticlimatic.

Supporting Roles

Alice Sobotka was delightful as Baroness Livenbaum. Charles Parker, Jr., was excellent as Dr. Serensky. Other creditable support was lent by Yvonne Lucy, Cameron Pippett and Caroline Barcay.

Mike Taylor was an entertaining, if idiotic, Prince Paul, boyhood sweetheart of Anastasia. A stronger characterization, a more inviting alternative to the mysterious Dr. Serensky, would have heightened considerably the drama of the conclusion.

Ed Rutsch appeared as Sergei, a household servant. He looked like a bouncer. Ed Gross was an unconvincing Counsellor Drivinetz.

Director Nesbitt Blaisdell was handicapped by a lack of the wealth of talent the Players have offered in former years. Still, he obviously left much of the characterization up to the actors themselves. Stage action was frequently awkward. A firmer directorial hand would have strengthened the play as a whole.

Costumes, handled by Cindy Rhodes and Ann Keaton, were beautiful. By contrast, the set was disappointingly ugly.

In the final analysis, Anastasia was not all it could have been. The leads were good. The rest, for the most part, was not.

But there's no question as to the ultimate judgment. The real star of the play merged as Kay Buchanan, in the rôle of Maria Feodorovna, Dowager Empress of Russia.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

Pre-Election Outlook

by Dick Gillespie

• STUDENT COUNCIL petitioning opened officially yesterday and a hot race is already in the making for the Council's top post.

Tim Mead and Dick Wills, both veterans in the campus political rat-race, have thrown their hats into the ring and could go neck and neck down to the wire.

Presidential Possibilities

Both Mead and Wills were nominated as possible candidates to head the Colonial Campus Political Party slate to be elected next week. The party, at its preliminary nominations last Friday, nominated no vice-presidential hopefuls.

As it now stands, this could leave room for a possible compromise to keep both men within the party, whereby one would be moved into the secondary administrative post.

At this stage, however, a compromise is very unlikely. Mead, one of the leaders in the formation of the party, has been rumored as a presidential possibility since early last fall.

Certainly his supporters have never considered him for the secondary post and it is doubtful that he has thought of stepping down either.

Therefore, Wills is the only hope for agreement. But even though this compromise has better possibilities, chances for its development are minor too.

Wills has been mentioned for both positions and probably has considered both of them. Talking to him personally Saturday, he said that he would have his petition filed for the presidency by Monday. He commented further that he would welcome the party support but that he would continue in the race even if he did not receive the nomination. Now that he has made his decision and stated it for public consumption, it is not likely that he will reverse his stand.

Past Records

Both men have commendable records in student activities. Wills, Council program director; and Mead, Council advocate, have stand-out endorsements as Council members. Both voted for the establishment of the campus radio station and literary magazine. Mead has been a critic of the much publicized book store investigation and two weeks ago was appointed to head the investigation committee when its chairman resigned.

Wills is responsible for the scheduling of student activities. It was through his efforts, as a matter of fact, that the United States Marine Band was secured for its performance at Lisner earlier this spring.

Wills reorganized the defunct University Pep and Dixieland Bands last year and is presently directing the two groups. He is a member of Order of Scarlet, Freshmen and Sophomore honorary, and last year was awarded the Andy Davis Memorial Award by the Booster Board for doing most to promote school spirit. He, also, is co-chairman of Emanon, an organization to promote social activities for the fraternities and sororities.

Mead, risking his political future, was one of the organizers of the Colonial Campus Political Party, a thing he promised to do in last year's elections. He, too, is a member of Order of Scarlet. He is a past co-chairman of Holiday Season and was a University debater during his freshman and sophomore years. He is currently president of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society's university chapter.

No election would be complete without a dark-horse and there is a possibility for that too; furnished by Steve Dietz, Engineering School Representative. If not Dietz, then someone else from the Engineering School stands a good chance. The Engineers first showed their full potential during Homecoming queen elections when they placed all three of their candidates in the finals.

This was accomplished simply by having people stationed at the entrances to Thompson Hall who urged members of the school to support their candidates. If such a bloc were thrown in this year's Council race the effort could unite the 1700-plus engineering students who could thus push Dietz out of the dark-horse category and into a three-way race for the presidency.

Here, bear in mind that the total votes cast for all the presidential candidates last year was less than 1500 votes.

Dietz, of course, says that he will not run. He may stick to his guns, but; nevertheless, he is still their most logical prospect. While he is little known outside the Engineering School, he has turned in quite an impressive record there. While maintaining above a 3.0 quality point index, he is a member of the Engineering Council and is their representative to the Student Council.

• 28 DELTS AND A DAME!

So what's so startling about that? Nothing, until you realize that they were all crowded into one Renault. We congratulate the Delts on bringing distinction (however dubious it may be) to the shores of the Potomac, but Harry Johns says the record is meaningless. Why? He got 28 Sigma Nus to church last Sunday.

And speaking of Delts, Friday night they attended the 100th anniversary Founders' Day Banquet of the National Capitol Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the National Press club. After a short cocktail hour to start things off, everyone moved to the dining room to eat and enjoy the ceremonies. Among awards presented was one to Parke Avery as this year's outstanding initiate. If there were a reward for big smiles, he would have received that also. Bernie Degen was given the "Pappy" Lipscom Award and an extra dinner as the 1959 selection for the outstanding Delt at GW. The latter prize came for Bernie's ability to talk fast to a slow thinking waiter.

The annual Sigma Chi Greenwich Village party came off Saturday night in fine style. Adding to the gaiety of the whole evening was Herby, an imported piano player, who was fantastic. Enjoying Herby, the Purple Passion, the party in general, and all the athletes left over from the annual Varsity-Alumni game (good game, by the way) were Hal Bergen and Linda Ransom, J. P. Donley and Bobby Johnson (I think I've got that right this week), Bob Hood and Theta Anne Kellogg, Bill Halter and Dottie "Ophelia" Williams, Bob Sneed and Theta Jan Baldauf, Howard Hill and Theta Jeanne Simon, Lin De Viechio and Angela Pecorella, Tom Varley and Kappa Marby Adams and Pete Wasilewski and Pi Phi Bobbi O'Neill.

"Beatniks" seemed to be the thing this week, as the KAs also went "beat" Saturday night. Surrealistic paintings decorated the candle-lit Kave. Among the "beat" crowd were No. 1 Dick Armstrong and Anne Bittner, Warren "Pinky" Hanna and Corine Julson, Bill and Mara Watson and John and Ann Byers. Imports from Mary Washington, Gail Warlow, Mandy Carson, and Ruthie Gaines were there with Alex Heslin, Bob Higdon, and Bill Watkins. The highlight of the evening was a poetry contest in which each couple displayed their artistic talents. George Buchanan and Margie Spencer caused the biggest laugh of the night with "The Throne." Larry Shaw and Joanie Howarth were the most artistic couple of the party with paint brushes and French poetry. Only one thing bothers the KAs nowadays—they're trying to find some place big enough to place the recently-attained Sigma Chi Scholarship trophy.

Mountain dew, mountain music, and mountain men and maids set the mood Saturday night at the Pike's "Hillbilly Party." Country folk included Phil Dubina and DG Dottie Seavone, Bill Farley and Mary Lou McCracken, Pete Mechanick and AEPi T. C. Aronoff,

Wedding bells rang for ADPI Mary Fondaw on March 28 when she became Mrs. Robert Blackwell. And while were on this romance kick, Alpha Epsilon Phi proudly announces the pinning of Penny Kramer to Jerry Rosenthal of the Merchant Marine Academy.

The Phi Sigs celebrated the return of Brother John Lintner last Saturday night. Also relieved (very much) by his return was his pinmate, ZTA Bobbie Pompillio. The boys had been snowed under with virus for the past two days, but perked up quick Saturday evening when a keg of "medicine" arrived. Perking up the most were Don Pavony and Pi Phi Pepita LaSalle, Lou van Lois and Chi O Ginger Thomas, and Alvan May and Martha Wright. Still perked up as this column was being written were Roland Croft, John Prokop, and Chuck Forbes. Losing their girls in a poker game were Charlie King, Cam Pippitt, Knute Fenstad, Tom Horner and Don Elliot. Late and sober arrivals were Charlie Mays and ADPI Annie Haug and Mike Taylor and Alice Sobotka.

The DGs and the SAEs got together Friday for their Spring luncheon and after dark Li'l Abner exchange. Rosina Orr got yours truly's prize for her outfit which featured missing teeth and an oversized maternity dress. Another interesting development of the evening was an original game taken from the wilds of somewhere where laughing and reclining were of utmost importance. But, lo, the ACE Miller machine is out on 19th Street as Tammany Hall-backed Bob Price (the bellowing sailor) moved into the spectrum with his rousing victory in the ever-present Indian Signs game. Of course the DGs showed up in good numbers and it was good to see a lot of faces which haven't been around recently—Liz McGarry, Lou McCracken, and Penny Reid. Then there were those who have given up greater glories for the SAE house — Betty Robinson, Judy Crumlish, Kitty Hyland (who is as prominent around the SAE house as Indian Signs). Jane Hildgedick, Margo Gross, Lani Derickson, Helene Harper, Cissie Anderson (early leaver), and Nancy Oliver.

Before embarking for Baltimore and a province conclave, the AEPis had what was supposed to be a "Gambling Casino" party at the house Friday night. Enjoying the party were Spectacular George Spector and Shella Macells and a whole flock of Seboltzes, who I guess I should get to know better. Among them: Eddie Baynard, his record collection, and Josephine Seboltz, Steve Newman and Mimsy Seboltz, Larry Lobl and Bunny Seboltz, and "Fats" Kaplan and Little Nancy Ackerman. Assembled around the kitchen table playing a new systematic game called "Rhythm" were Mel Feldman and Lynne Robinson, Bernie Karmel and Gall (I'm not sure of her last name, but I think it starts with a "B" or was it Rogers).

From the tables down at the Union, to the place where the brothers dwell, to the dear old Sigma Nu bar we love so well, sang the Sigma Nus assembled, with their Sing Trophy raised on high. Those assembled toasting with the trophy were Al Kopf and Rosemary Caputo, Carl Prout and Mary Mount, Jack Lynn and Bunny Johannassen, John Harrison and Sharon Ronnigen, Johnny Johnson and Pat Ohi, Ernie Saults and Pat Gallagher, Tom McGrath and Ann Conneally, Max and Mary McFadden and Steve Kemp and Judy Franks. Another jubilant brother in the crowd was the leader Dick Wills being followed by his date Judy Holsburg who was carrying around the Outstanding Director's Award. Also enjoying the festivities were brothers with some of the classiest middle names in fraternitydom. Check these: Dinwiddie, Yarling, Wulfsohn, Royal, and Beeber. All the brothers, their dates and guests had a grand time in the post-Song Feast and are looking forward to the 1960 IFC Sing because there is a rumor that Sigma Nus had started rehearsals yesterday at noon. Baa, Baa, Black Sheep.

If anyone wants an economical way to spend Easter vacation, see Annie Keeton at Strong Hall. She braided her hair, let her knees show, acquired a giant lollipop, told the bus-drive she was 12-years-old, and he believed her. What a way to get to New York. See 'ya!—WHY NOT?

As the Council Engineering school representative, Dietz stands out as the only member voting against recognition for the Colonial Campus Political Party. This is in direct conflict with the other two candidates who are trying to head the party slate.

Basically the facts are these: Mead, the first of the three potential hopefuls, has been groomed for the presidency since last fall. Wills has surprised most people by openly declaring his intentions. Both of these men are vying for the support of the yet-to-be-tested quality of the new political party.

Coupled with the Wills-Mead factor is the known but unproved (in a Council fight) potential of the Engineering School bloc.

VIVE LE POPCORN!

The other day as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (Marlboro, incidentally, has the best tinfoil, which is not surprising when you consider that they have the best cigarettes, which is not surprising when you consider that they take the best filters and put them together with the best tobaccos and rush them to your tobacco counter, fresh and firm and loaded with smoking pleasure). The other day, I say, as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (I have, incidentally, the second largest ball of tinfoil in our family. My brother Eleanor's is bigger—more than four miles in diameter—but, of course, he is taller than I). The other day, as I was saying, while walking down the street picking up tinfoil, I passed a campus and right beside it, a movie theatre which specialized in showing foreign films. Most campuses have foreign movie theatres close by, because foreign movies are full of culture, art, and esoterica, and where is culture more ripe, art more rampant, and esoterica more endemic than on a campus?

Nowhere; that's where.

I hope you have all been taking advantage of your local foreign film theatre. Here you will find no simple-minded Hollywood products, marked by treacly sentimentality and machine-made bravura. Here you will find life itself—in all its grime, its poverty, its naked, raw passion!

Have you, for instance, seen the recent French import, Le Crayon de Mon Oncle ("The Kneecap"), a savage and uncompromising story of a man named Claude, whose consuming ambition is to get a job as a meter reader with the Paris water department? But he is unable, alas, to afford the flashlight one needs for this position. His wife, Bon-Bon, sells her hair to a wigmaker and buys him a flashlight. Then, alas, Claude discovers that one also requires a leatherette bow tie. This time his two young daughters, Caramel and Nougat, sell their hair to a wigmaker. So now Claude has his leatherette bow tie, but now, alas, his flashlight battery is burned out and the whole family, alas, is bald.

Or have you seen the latest Italian masterpiece, La Donna E Mobile (I Ache All Over), a heart-shattering tale of a boy and his dog? Malvolio, a Venetian lad of nine, loves his little dog with every fibre of his being. He has one great dream: to enter the dog in the annual Venetian dog show. But this, alas, requires an entrance fee, and Malvolio, alas, is penniless. However, he saves and scrimps and steals and finally gets enough together to enter the dog in the show. The dog, alas, comes in twenty-third. Malvolio sells him to a vivisectionist.

Or have you seen the new Japanese triumph, Kibutsi-San (The Radish), a pulse-stirring historical romance about Yamoto, a poor farmer, and his daughter Ethel who are accosted by a warlord one morning on their way to market? The warlord cuts Yamoto in half with his samurai sword and runs off with Ethel. When Yamoto recovers, he seeks out Ethel's fiancé, Red Buttons, and together they find the warlord and kill him. But, alas the warlord was also a sorcerer and he whimsically turned Ethel into a whooping crane. Loyal Red Buttons takes Ethel home where he feeds her fish heads for twenty years and keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman. She never does. Alas.

Foreign Review And Dance Program Held

• "INTERNATIONAL NIGHT," a program of dance and song, was presented by the International Students Society, Friday evening in Lisner Auditorium.

Iradj Amini, president of the Society, introduced Prof. Alan T. Deibert, Advisor to Foreign Students, who gave an address of welcome to the audience.

Students, representing 18 foreign countries, participated in the program. Among the countries represented were Panama, Israel, Morocco, Burma, Russia, Hawaii, Spain, and Persia. Representatives from Latvia, Greece, Sweden, Switzerland, France, Iran, Poland, Great Britain and the United States participated in the "Parade of Nations" during the finale.

• PAULINE KONER, NOTED dance artist, presented a workshop for members of the Dance Production Groups and the class in dance production Friday, April 3.

Miss Koner's program ties in with the Dance Production Groups' preparation for the annual Dance Concert, to be held this year in Lisner Auditorium on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25. Beginning April 13, tickets will be on sale in the Book Store, and in the Student Union beginning April 20. The Concert is free to holders of the Campus Combo.

An artist, composer, and choreographer, Miss Koner directs her own dance company in New York and dances as guest artist with the Jose Limon Company.

Colclough Gets Patent Medal

• ACTING PRESIDENT D. S. Colclough, Director of the University's Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Foundation, has been selected to receive the New Jersey Patent Law Association's annual Jefferson Medal.

President Colclough will be honored at the Annual Jefferson Medal Dinner to be held May 7 at the Hotel Robert Treat in Newark, New Jersey.

The Medal is awarded to an individual who has made notable contributions to the American Patent System. Officials of the New Jersey Patent Law Association, in announcing the award winner, stated that President Colclough, who has been Director of the Patent, Trademark, and Copyright Foundation since its inception, "has furnished the guidance and effective leadership for this unique organization."

Dr. Kullback Writes On Statistical Theory

This is the first attempt to unify the varied applications of the logarithmic measures of information to the testing of statistical hypotheses.

Lillian Brown Heads Panel Discussion

The program was presented by the Washington Chapter of the American Women of Radio and Television of which Mrs. Brown is a member.

Taking part in the discussion were senators Mike Mansfield (D.-Mont.), Kenneth Keating (R.-N.Y.), and Hubert Humphrey (D.-Minn.). The topic for discussion was the FCC's newscast equal-time laws. The views the senators expressed in the discussion have met with widespread interest by top men in radio and television. This interest has led the radio and television people to ask the AWRT for an invitation to express their side of the question, in a similar discussion. As it looks now, the

Dr. Kullback's publisher, the Wiley Press, said in the Wiley Bulletin, "Even in Technical publishing it occasionally happens that the ideal situation becomes a reality. A book is needed on a specific topic, there is one man in the field who should write it, he is approached, accepts and writes the book on a schedule. This was the case with Solomon Kullback."

Dr. Kullback was the first student to receive a Ph.D. degree in Mathematical Statistics at the University. Since then, he has been a lecturer in statistics at the University and has taught nearly every course offered here in the Statistics department at one time or another.

He is the author of numerous other published research papers on theoretical and applied statistics. This semester, Dr. Kullback is teaching two graduate courses in statistics.

discussion will be held on April 12 and 13. Mrs. Brown will again moderate the program.

"EVERYONE TO HIS OWN TASTE"
There has never been any accounting for tastes, and the man who appreciated this truth first was Francois Rabelais. In his "Pantagruel", he coined this now-famous judgment:
"Every one to his taste, as the woman said when she kissed her cow."

"PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH"
Sounds like advice right out of "Poor Richard", but Plautus said it many centuries before Ben Franklin. Classical scholars, of course, know this statement in its original Latin:
"Facias ipse quod faciamus suades."

"LOVED AND LOST"
It's better than not loving at all according to Lord Tennyson's "In Memoriam", XXVII.
"I hold it true, what'er befall/I feel it, when I sorrow most/'Tis better to have loved and lost/Than never to have loved at all."

The Dartmouth game scheduled for Monday, March 30, was also rained out. in the Greenbrier Tourney played at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, on March 28-30. The G. W. golfers fell before some stiff competition and ended up at the bottom of the pile.

Eddie Bowers provided the one bright spot for the Colonials, turning in a 36-hole total of 141, only three strokes behind medalist Charlie Vandik of Ohio.

The final standings for the 36-hole medal play tournament found Ohio University in first place, Davidson and Colgate in a tie for second, Marshall, Washington and Lee, Pitt, Dennison, and G. W.

The Buff slump continued last Wednesday when the Colonials met Colgate again, this time in a head-on contest. The Colgate linemen managed to defeat the G. W. squad despite the inspired play of Bowers and Haney, the Colonial's top two men. Haney was low man with a 70, and Bowers second with 74. But Colgate swept the other two foursomes and achieved a 17-10 triumph.

man Don Hegman led the Colonial twelve hit attack with three singles and four RBI's.

On the heels of this Victory came the 18-8 romp last Friday. The Buff displayed their power at the plate with 16 hits, while Frank Campana posted his first victory of the season in relief of George Bickerton. Campana, in evening his record at 1-1, worked the last six innings and allowed only 2 runs, while his sluggers were piling up an insurmountable lead. Trailing 6-4, the Colonials erupted for 4 runs in the fourth inning to take the lead for keeps. Catcher Ron DeMelfi tapped a grounder to the third baseman and was safe when the Trinity first sacker had some trouble holding onto the throw from third. DeMelfi scored on Gino D'Ambrosio's triple and Denny Hill's single scored D'Ambrosio. Then Charley Sampson blasted a mighty homer to left-center to complete the scoring. After Trinity narrowed the lead to 8-7 with a run off Campana in the fifth, the Buff scored five runs to put the game on ice. Sampson led the Buff attack with the game's only home run. Trinity committed five errors which aided the GW team.

The next game for our fence busters is a Southern Conference game at William and Mary on April 11. The next home game will be April 4 against Washington and Lee.

'Murals Attract Large Following'

• "PARTICIPATION in the Intramural Program by so many students this year has certainly shown us the enthusiasm of the men in the University for our program," states Professor Vincent DeAngelis. He emphasizes that he hopes that the large number of men who have engaged in the many sporting activities throughout the year will show continued interest for the three remaining sports, softball, golf, and track.

Thus far in the 1958-1959 season, the Med School, AEPi, and Delta Theta Phi have set the rather brisk pace.

Tomorrow evening the finals of the badminton tournament, which has been going on since mid-March, will be played in the University Gymnasium. Of the more than 200 participants who entered the bird-rapping competitions, the number has been narrowed down to an even dozen top players. So far in this competition AEPi, Med School, and SAE are leading. Representing SAE are Paul Jenkins, Max Farrington, and Larry Corn. From Delta Theta Phi are Spence, Rempe, and Velde and AEPi contributes Bob Lipman and Stu Engleberg. Also in the finals are Don West of Teke, Colmeyer of the Med School, Duane Harkleroad of SX, and Chloupek of Sigma Nu. Four of these men, who showed up very well in last year's tourney are Lipman, Spence, Harkleroad, and Chloupek.

Of the usual spring sports, only tennis will be omitted while softball, golf, and track will be carried on at a full pace. In softball, which starts next Sunday, at least 30 teams will compete on the diamonds of the Ellipse and the Monument Grounds.

Varsity Gridders Edge 'Old Grads'

by John Prokop

• THE VARSITY FOOTBALL team defeated the Alumni 20-18 Saturday afternoon at Sidwell Friends football field. About 400 paying fans, mostly alumni, enjoyed the fourth annual Varsity-Alumni game in crisp football weather.

Quarterback Charlie Packan passed for two touchdowns and quarterback Ed Hino passed for another for the Varsity. Packan also tossed to end Andy Guida for a two-point after touchdown play. Speedy Alumni halfback Mike Ennis scored all three Alumni touchdowns.

Although neither team played consistently good football on the muddy field, the game was a crowd pleaser, and every so often a team clicked as a unit to perform well.

Midway through the first quarter, Hino thread-needed his 17-yard touchdown pass between the outstretched arms of Alum Jack Henzes and hit end Alex Sokaris in the end zone. This play climaxed a Varsity drive from the Alum 30 that started after center Ron DeMelfi blocked and recovered Alum Dick Claypool's punt. A run for the extra point failed and the Varsity led 6-0.

On the first play of the second quarter, Ennis raced past the Varsity secondary, took a pass from Baumgartner and scored on play that covered 60 yards from the line of scrimmage. The score was tied, 6-6.

After two sets of downs, the Alums took over on their own 27 and failed to move on their first two plays. On third down, quarterback Baumgartner flipped a pitch-out to halfback Ted Colna who ran to the right side of the field and heaved a long pass to Ennis who gathered it in and dashed to the five-yard line before he was hauled down from behind. A running play carried the Alums to the one, and on second down Ennis went over the right side of the line to score his second touchdown. Alumni led, 12-6.

Packan returned the kickoff 30 yards to the Varsity 35-yard line. But penalties and good defensive work by the Alum line made it fourth down and 21 yards to go. Alum end Jim England blocked Packan's punt and Alum Cecil Perkins recovered the ball on the five-yard line.

On the first play, Baumgartner carried to the three-yard line for the Alums. However, the next two plays lost yardage and it was fourth down and seven yards to go for a touchdown. Again Baumgartner pitched out to Colna who tossed to Ennis in the end zone for the third Alumni touchdown.

In the second half, after both teams exchanged a series of downs, Varsity end Andy Guida recovered Alum quarterback Ray Fox's fumble on the Alum 40-yard line. On second down, Packan ran around left end to the 28-yard line for a first down. Then halfback John Carraciola moved it to the 23-yard line. On the next play, Packan tossed a 23-yard touchdown pass to Guida. Packan and Guida repeated the play to score a two-point conversion which proved later to be the winning points. The score was then 18-14, the Alumni leading.

The Alumni was unable to move farther than the 11-yard line in three plays. On fourth down and four to go, the Alums dropped Claypool back to punt. Varsity tackle Don Palmer blocked the kick which went out of bounds on the 10-yard line and the Varsity took over.

Packan ran for two yards on the first play. On second down, he rolled out to the left behind the protection of almost the entire Varsity team. The entire Alumni team fell for the bait and swarmed to the left side of the field to stop the play. Varsity end Bill Carmello was standing alone in the extreme right corner of the end zone. Packan lofted a pass to him for the final and winning touchdown. The Varsity led for the first time, 20-18. The game ended with the Alumni trying desperately to score with long-pass plays.

Ball Season Opens, Colonials Win Three

by Steve Miller

• THE COLONIALS WERE in mid-season form in their fourth game last Friday at the West Ellipse as they coasted to an 18-8 victory over Trinity College. This was the third win in four games for the Buff and their second in a row over Trinity.

The Buff ballhawks opened the baseball season with a resounding 7-1 victory against Vermont on Thursday, March 26. Pitcher George Bickerton was untouchable, allowing only two hits. The senior hurler had a no-hitter riding until Vermont shortstop Charley Isles blooped a single to center with one out in the eighth inning. Isles then scored on Morris Castagner's hit to spoil Bickerton's shut-out.

The Syracuse game scheduled for Friday was rained out. Saturday Colby College dealt the Colonials and Frank Campana their only defeat to date, 11-5. Campana, who was 4-0 last year, lost his first game for the Buff. Leading 3-2,

Golfers Drop Two Matches

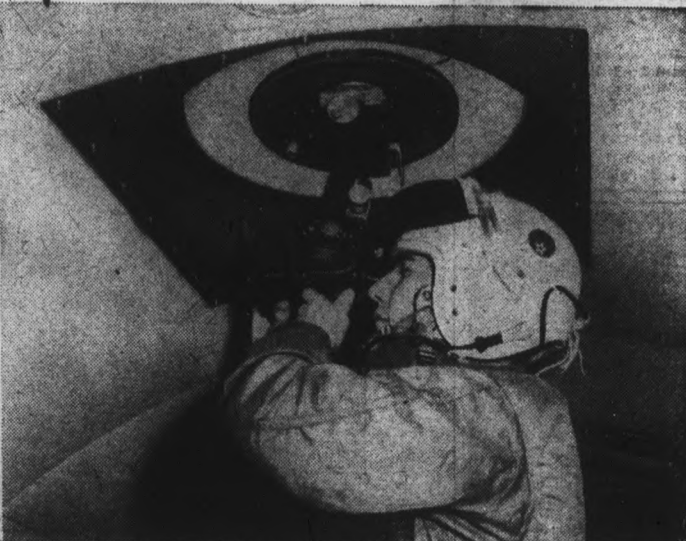

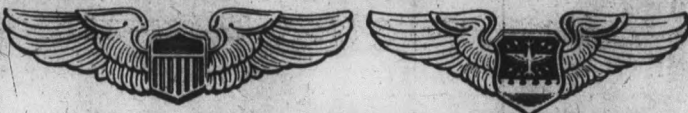

by Stan Heckman

• AFTER GETTING OFF to a winning start by virtue of a victory over Columbia, the Buff golf team fell into a slump which ended in a last-place spot in the Greenbrier Tournament and a depressing loss to Colgate.

On March 26 the Colonial linemen exhibited some of last year's conference-winning skill by defeating Columbia 26-1 at Bethesda Country Club. Two-year letterman Joe Haney led the team with a 73-stroke round, but credit for the victory must be given to the combined effort of Haney, Bowers, Dunn, Singman, Krick, and Feldman.

THERE'S AN IMPORTANT FUTURE AHEAD FOR THE MEN WHO WEAR THESE WINGS

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the skies—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in astro-navigation, electronics, engineering and allied fields. Then, too, he must show outstanding qualities of leadership, initiative and self-reliance. In short, he is a man eminently prepared for an important future in the new Age of Space. Find out today if you can qualify as an Air Force pilot or navigator.
